

Steps to Connecting with your Local Kiwanis this Summer

1) Find a local Kiwanis group near you.

- Contact myself or another district board member if you need help!

2) Gather information.

- Where and when do they meet? Who do I contact about meetings?

3) Try getting a group of officers and/or members to attend a few of their meetings.

- My home club's officer team goes to a Kiwanis meeting once a month together.

4) Collaborate with them for projects.

- Volunteer at some of their events, or plan one together. Have a blood drive, highway clean up, or come up with your own project!

Having a local Kiwanis can be vastly beneficial to your club.

When it comes to finding volunteers for projects or ways to fund trips, such as Key Leader, your local Kiwanis is a great source.
